

Welcome to the Jacksonville Information Technology Council

Vision & Mission Statement: The Jacksonville Information Technology Council (JITC) is a forum for information technology professionals to exchange information, explore new ideas, develop partnerships, educate the IT community, and contribute to the success of our members.

Meetings: The IT Council holds regular breakfast meetings on the last Tuesday of each month at the FSCJ Downtown Campus. Cost: Free to members, $10 for Chamber member guests and $12 for non-Chamber member guests. Sign-up to receive information and reminders about upcoming meetings & events at <http://www.jacksonvilleitcouncil.com/>

7:30am Registration, Networking, Breakfast
8:00 am Program Begins: Breakfast Speaker, Keynote Presentation
9:00 am Meeting Adjourns

- Be a breakfast sponsor: For $300, members can promote their business with a 10-minute presentation prior to the program speaker. Breakfast sponsors are also given the opportunity to distribute the company's materials on all the tables. If you are interested in being a spotlight speaker, email Wendy Norfleet at wnorfleet@norfleetsolutions.com or Mark Aston at mark.aston@uniti.com.
- Get involved: Attend regular meetings, attend special events, and volunteer on committees to get to know other members. Visit our website or email a Committee Chairperson for more information about committees and how you can get more involved.
- Virtual Happy Hour: Please join us for our monthly (virtual) happy hour! Happens on the 2nd Thursday of every month from 4:00 PM to 5:00 PM. Pour your favorite cocktail (or non-alcoholic drink) and hang out with us for some fun and camaraderie!

New Member Tips

- Get to know your Mentor. They will help you get oriented within the council and make the most of the experience.
- Visit the website often to see who is speaking at our meetings or to learn what fun events we have planned. <http://www.jacksonvilleitcouncil.com>
- Support the work we do with Tech Coast Conference, a key initiative the IT Council has become known for over the years. <http://www.techcoastconference.com>

How to get the most out of the Chamber of Commerce Experience

If you care about the community that you call home and believe in providing a quality product or service at a fair value, then you should meet like-minded people in the various Councils of the Chamber. The Chamber does not screen new members for character or competence, so people will not immediately assume you have the qualities they seek in a business partner. They need to get to know you and see you in action doing something for the community or the Chamber.

So, get involved! Attend mixers and let people see your fun side, serve on committees, and show that you care and can get things done. In time, other Chamber members will see you as someone they want to do business with and even let you into their personal life as a friend. As they gain that intimate knowledge of you and your business, they will become an extension of your marketing effort through successful networking. You will then be selling through the Chamber, not just to the Chamber, and the power of the experience multiplies. The more you put into the Chamber, the more you will get back personally and professionally.

We are delighted you have joined the fastest-growing and most dynamic Council in the Chamber of Commerce!
